105 Years of Changing Lives

Founded in 1921, 4Sight Vision Support has been helping blind and partially sighted people across West Sussex live independently for 105 years.

Over that time, the world has changed dramatically. Our services have evolved too, from practical welfare support to information and advice, social activities, accessible technology and hospital-based services.

Yet while the ways we support people have changed, our purpose has remained the same.

For 105 years, we have helped people adapt to sight loss, overcome isolation and maintain their confidence, independence and quality of life.

Everything we have achieved has been made possible through the generosity of supporters like you.

Thank you so much for helping us reach this remarkable milestone.

The Difference You Make

Every day, people across West Sussex are facing the reality of sight loss.

For many, a diagnosis can bring uncertainty, isolation and a loss of confidence. Knowing where to turn and what support is available can make all the difference.

That is where 4Sight Vision Support comes in.

Through information and advice, hospital services, social groups, accessible technology support and practical help, we ensure that people do not face sight loss alone.

Today, an estimated 36,200 people in West Sussex are living with sight loss, and demand for our services continues to grow.

While the challenges facing charities continue to increase, our commitment remains unchanged: to be there for every blind and partially sighted person who needs us.

Caring . Forward Thinking . Trusted

Your support makes this possible. Thank you for helping ensure that no one has to face sight loss alone.

Kirstie's Story

"When I lost my sight, I was scared, devastated and angry. I lost my sight, my job and my independence almost overnight. I became deeply depressed and didn't leave my house for six months. I had no one to tell me that what I was experiencing was normal."

Twenty-nine years ago, Kirstie was diagnosed with Stargardt disease, a genetic form of macular degeneration that affects central vision.

Support from 4Sight Vision Support helped her come to terms with her diagnosis, regain confidence and find new ways to remain independent.

Today, Kirstie is proud to be the first partially sighted Chief Executive Officer of 4Sight Vision Support.

"The charity helped me realise that sight loss didn't have to mean giving up on life. Now I'm leading our efforts to ensure no one faces sight loss alone."

Stories like Kirstie's happen every day across West Sussex. They are only possible because of the generosity of supporters like you.

Thank you for helping people facing sight loss live independently, confidently and well.
